

What can the Economics Network do more of to help?

Livestream workshops and events for international audiences

Annual Conference

Updated resources, easy to find

Guest lectures

Teaching economics through in-class debate

Best practices

best practice, sharing ideas

Exemplar materials

More conferences

What can the Economics Network do more of to help?

Case studies

More quizzes, case studies, Q & A

Employer engagement materials

Webinars

Set criteria for excellence in teaching economics to support staff development. How to recognise good teaching? How to incentivise it?

Sharing example problem sets etc.

Create on-line seminars to spread new methods

Share teaching resources

Involve students?

What can the Economics Network do more of to help?

Share best practice. Create short videos of experienced lecturers sharing case studies. Annual DEEI

Mid-careers workshop

Outreach and workshop in other regions of the UK

More meetings. Updated materials.

Understand students

Network members sharing good practice with workshops at our Universities.

Open educational resources

Conference for students

Sharing of best practice

What can the Economics Network do more of to help?

Update Resources on website, share best practice

Visit unis to do workshops

Help to raise awareness among academics on the importance of teaching

Compulsory training for all academics

Commission high quality research into key issues e.g. effect of lecture capture on attendance and outcomes

Closer involvement with institutions (individually) on a more frequent basis.

Influencing HE policy - TEF share teaching materials not in textbooks

Give talks to students?

Resources for old hands

What can the Economics Network do more of to help?

More sharing good practice sessions

Engagement with practitioners

Fellow up to New lecturer workshop

Workshops and conferences to engage employers with students

Share new ideas on teaching economics

Sharing materials

Consultancy, support department to review curriculum and train members of staff to help shift culture

Challenge assessment practice within the discipline

One day workshops for mid-career colleagues

What can the Economics Network do more of to help?

Online video to supplement resources there. Flip the network :p

Contributions to department meetings

We need to promote resources and support available

Bespoke workshops (not for GTAs necessarily)

Providing opportunities for mid-career training and CPD

Visits across the network - sharing practice face to face

Try to get greater involvement from more colleagues. The concern is that few colleagues in departments actually interact with the network or indeed pedagogy more generally.

Roaming regional(?) seminar series organised by associates

Dissertation supervision help

What can the Economics Network do that is new?

Dissertation supervision help

Let Australia in like the Eurovision

Webinars

Webinars?

T&L MOOC

Nothing - stick to what works at the moment

Events to inspire finance colleagues

More online videos. Podcasts

Guest lectures and workshops

What can the Economics Network do that is new?

Mentoring programme for lecturers

How can digital tools support teaching?

Teaching accreditation specifically for economists

Mid career support

Forum to share ideas and look for collaborators on education research projects

Talk to students?

Speaker training

new ideas

Webinars

What can the Economics Network do that is new?

Research into effects of new technology eg lecture capture on attendance and engagement

Support department hiring excellent teachers

Activities for seasoned lecturers without a specific teaching focus

More training on using digital tools in teaching

Economics Teaching Accreditation (in addition to and separate from HEA Fellowship)

Mid career support

Accreditation for departments

Career support

Link universities with employers to bridge the gap between theory and practice

What can the Economics Network do that is new?

Be public facing - as a fact checker. We haven't had enough of experts!

Facilitate the engagement of students who are calling changes/improvements.

Professionalise (accredit) economics learning

Promote alternative approach to the discipline

impeach Johnson

Engage with education discourse and debate outside Economics. Learn from broader community AND establish own space.

Conference with academics, employers and students

Engage more with the SPE

Develop and share links with employers

What can the Economics Network do that is new?

Teaching communication

Links with international partners

Help identify excellent career track teachers

Cooperate with AEEE