

University of Exeter Business School

First International Conference on Teaching Philosophy to Economists

Friday 27 March 2026

15.30-18.30

Newman Red LT, Peter Chalk Building

15:30-15:45: Introduction to the Conference and to the Project

Dr. Giancarlo Ianulardo, University of Exeter, UK

15:45-16:30: Keynes: The Philosopher of Money

Professor Lord Robert Skidelsky, University of Warwick, UK

16:30-16:55: How Much is Enough? A Reappraisal

Dr. Edward Skidelsky, University of Exeter

16:55-17:05: Break and Refreshment

17:05-17:30: Beyond Seeing Economics Through a Glass, Darkly: Defetishising Economic Knowledge and Knowers in Teaching the History and Philosophy of Economics with the Metonym of Ice-Core Production as Heuristic

Dr. Lilith Lee, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Netherlands and Dr. Marina Uzunova, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Netherlands

17:30-18:00: How to teach more-than-human and eco-centric perspectives to economists

Prof. Michiru Nagatsu, University of Helsinki, Finland

18:00-18:30: "Economic philosophy": present and future perspectives. Characterizing 'Economic Philosophy'

Prof. Gilles Campagnolo, University Panthéon-Sorbonne, France

To attend in person, please register by March 22

Registration form

University of Exeter Business School

Saturday 28 March 2026

15.00-18.00

Constantine Leventis, Building One

15:00-15:30: Economics and Philosophy: A plea for an expansion of the relevance of economic discourse

Prof. Stefano Zamagni, University of Bologna, Italy

15:30-16:00: Overview of the teaching of economic philosophy in French universities

Prof. Jérôme Ballet, Université de Bordeaux, France
& Prof. Damien Bazin, Université Côte d'Azur, France

16:00-16:25: The economy and its dynamics equilibrium and processes

Prof. Pierre Livet, University of Aix-Marseille, France

16:25-16.35: Break and Refreshment

16:35-17:05: Kenneth Boulding and the resistance to the shift from moral philosophy to economics due to scientism

Prof. Peter Boettke, George Mason University, US

17:05-17:35: The Triadic Dynamics of Regenerative Praxis: Reimagining Interdisciplinary Coherence Across Philosophy, Politics, and Economics in Higher Education

Dr. Stéphane Hlaimi, University of Exeter, UK

17:35-18:00: Ontological emptiness and psychological emptiness: the philosophical explanation of the economic agent

Dr. Giancarlo Ianulardo, University of Exeter, UK
& Prof. Aldo Stella, University of Perugia, Italy

You can follow the event remotely here

